Dear Goldington Green School,

How are you? I hope you are fine and doing well. Back to me here, I am fine and doing great at the moment. Thank you so much for the letter, I appreciate the great work done.

I just finished my last exams and here working on my research. Truth be told, this has been my hardest party at university. The fact is that I have to go on and carry out research and make my book to leave in the school library. I have to show my supervisor my work before I transition to a new chapter and if they are not pleased with the work, you have to go back and repeat it over and over until when it's approved.

Right now am still on chapter two and I am doing it for the fifth time. I pray that this time round it's approved and I proceed to chapter three. But anyway, this has forced me to work hard and seek more guidance from different scholars, books, and lecturers.

Some weeks ago, I was invited on television as a guest to represent the ladies in sports in Uganda. I was really happy, I didn't see that coming. At first, I was nervous but the moment the show started, I had to calm down. Everything went well and I thank God for the great opportunity and I believe in better things in the future.

Besides that, my basketball season started in January this year and my team is doing quite well in the league. This has been one of my best seasons. We just had the last game that ushered us to break and wait for the second round. I just pray we make it to the finals this year or even take the championship.

With all this said, send my greetings to everyone at Goldington Green School. Tell them I love them so much and I pray that they all excel in their exams. Once again, thank you so much for the love, care, and sincere giving May God richly bless you.

Lots of love from Isabella Namugabo
